THE INGALLS MEMORIAL LIBRARY.

The report of the librarian seems to call for no especial comment. The diminution in the circulation is a matter for regret and suggests that the method of distribution of books at East Rindge does not make the library as accessible as we should wish it to be in that part of the town.

The trustees note with regret the death of one member of their board, Mr. Jason S. Perry, who, during his short term of service, had made several improvements at the library. They beg to request the town for the usual appropriation of three hundred dollars for the expenses of the coming year.

Respectfully submitted,

MARY LEE WARE.

HERBERT I. WALLACE.

February 10, 1910.

REPORT OF THE LIBRARIAN.

For the Year 1909.

About 150 books were added to our library during the past year, but owing to unavoidable delay, only a few were put into circulation before January first. I think it is owing to the want of new books that the circulation has been less than usual, as the decrease is mostly in adult fiction. The circulation of juvenile literature has been good, in regard to both quantity and quality.

The new books are fully up to the usual standard of the Ingalls library and a few of equally good character have been loaned by the pastor of the Congregational church. Several volumes have also been given by other friends, and the usual reports have been received from Concord, the New Hampshire agricultural college and from Washington.

The Century and Scribner's magazines which have been collecting since the Ingalls library was first opened, and all of the unbound Harper's have been bound, making sixty-three additional volumes. Of all these magazines only one number was missing, and that was supplied by Mrs. E. J. Hale.

Additions to the museum include a very daintily made handkerchief, over eighty years old, given by Mrs. Almira Bancroft Bowen, and a poem written by Dr. Seth Payson, which was given by Mrs. Marianna Ward Brown. Several birds and animals have been added to Miss Ware's collection.

Following is the table of circulation for 1909 :

	Books.	Daily Average.	West Rindge Library.	Unbound Magazines.

REPORT OF
WEST RINDGE BRANCH LIBRARY,

For the Year ending December 31, 1909.

Whole number of books circulated, eight hundred and seventy-six. Of this number one hundred and thirty-four were books from the "Ingalls library," and circulated through the Branch library; forty-one were sent to the "Ingalls library" for circulation.

Whole number of cards issued to December 31, 1909, four hundred and thirty.

Twenty-three new names were added to the list of patrons during the year.

The different classes stand as follows: Fiction, 648; Sociology, 21; Natural Science, 39; Useful Arts, 15; Fine Arts, 28; Poetry, 23; Travels, 24; Biography, 41; History, 21; Juvenile, 259; Miscellaneous, 16.

Again, we are pleased to report that one hundred and twenty new and modern books have been added during the year. All were purchased and added by Miss Ware with the exception of six which were presented by the publishers.

Respectfully submitted,

M. LIZZIE WETHERBEE,

Librarian.

SCHOOL REPORT.

In presenting you the report of the past year we feel justified in saying that it has been one of prosperity.

We have been able to have thirty-three weeks in all the schools but in No. 6 which, through the generous contribution of Mr. E. I. Wellington, is still in session.

We have had teachers in most of the schools who have worked faithfully and have taken interest in their work, while we are aware of the fact that one or two have not proved satisfactory, we find it hard to always get the teacher we would like, coming to us as they do many times utter strangers, getting their position through an agency who guarantee them a position for a year with the understanding that they shall pay to them a certain per cent of their salary. Our district superintendent has, however, adopted the rule of having the teacher sign a contract, that if she does not fill the position satisfactorily it means her dismissal after giving her proper notice.

During the past year we have made a change in superintendents. Mr. James N. Pringle, who took up the work with us at the beginning of the fall term has proved himself to be a most capable man for the position, working in harmony with both teacher and pupil and trying, we believe, to get the best results possible.

We would urge upon all to become acquainted with the man, for to know him means to like him.

We have been criticized to a certain extent for running the two schools at the centre. We are well aware that this is not a financial scheme but we thoroughly believe in having one graded school in town, and we wish we could impress on the minds of the parents the advantages of such a school, and we believe it to be the duty of every parent, as soon as their child is far enough advanced in their studies, to give them this opportunity, as such studies are pursued there which fits them to enter the high school; also these same scholars are not taking the time which ought to be given to the primary grades.

We have also been criticized because of the decision we made in regard to paying tuition in bordering states. We beg to say that these decisions were made, not because of any ill will we had toward anyone, but after careful study of the state law and consulting the state superintendent on points we did not understand, we came to the decision which we made and believe it to be a just interpretation of the law.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS.

To the School Board of Rindge:

I herewith submit my report as superintendent of schools, also the report of the supervisor of music.

The number of pupils in the schools of Rindge is practically the same as last year and, except for the last five weeks, the attendance has been excellent. Since the Christmas recess bad weather and sickness have caused a falling off both in membership and attendance. The number of instances of tardiness during the fall term was excessive, but two pupils were responsible for nearly half of the entire number.

The general condition of the school buildings is good, except that a defective chimney in Number 8 has caused considerable trouble from smoke. The blackboard space is limited in most of the schools, except Number 3, which has been equipped with slate boards, which are appreciated by teacher and pupils. If one school could be so equipped each year, the cost would not be felt and the improvement would be permanent. I have applied "liquid slating" to the boards in three schools with excellent results, but this is not economical as the coating soon wears off.

It is hoped that with the cooperation of teachers and pupils a marked improvement can be made in the appearance and condition of the school yards. Teachers seldom seem to realize their responsibility for the condition of grounds and outbuildings as well as for that of the school rooms.

Under the new law such districts as are entitled to receive state aid receive $2 for each week of service of each of the qualified teachers in their employ. (Qualified teachers are graduates of normal schools or holders of state certificates). This aid, applied to teachers' salaries, gives such towns better teachers at no increase of cost to themselves, and if we are to have such teachers, we must pay the wages which their services command in other towns. To employ poor teachers because they can be hired more cheaply is like buying, for investment, stock which does not pay dividends, simply because it can be bought below its par value. There are numerous instances of the salary paid not being the measure of a teacher's value, but frequent changes are evidence that we pay too much for what we get, or are not paying enough to retain the teachers we want.

A good grammar school ought to be maintained for the whole district but, without transportation, such a school will not be a success unless it offers advantages, not to be gained in the mixed schools. There is no doubt but that better work can be done in a school of two or three grades than in a mixed school of six or eight, but concentration which makes a larger school without a more efficient teacher is not educationally advantageous, whatever merit it may have from the financial point of view.

An inventory of the books owned by the district has been prepared, so that books not in use in one school can be transferred to another and save the cost of additional copies. This can be done with the supplementary reading books throughout the year.

The Slocum copy slips are used in all the schools and are giving good results. They can be kept close to the line where the pupil is writing and prevent the following of the last line written as a copy.

Thermometers have been placed in each school room to aid the teacher's judgment in keeping the room at a reasonable temperature.

Respectfully submitted,

JAMES N. PRINGLE,

Superintendent of Schools.

Feb. 14, 1910.

REPORT OF SUPERVISOR OF MUSIC.

To the Superintendent of Schools:

The music in the Rindge schools has consisted of work in the New Educational Music Course First Reader, also scale and interval drill and rote songs. In one school, No. 6, the Second Reader is used by two of the pupils, who have had some work in two-part music. Earlier in the year work was done in three-part music, but this had to be discontinued as the pupil who sang the third part left the school.

The progress in the music and the interest which each school, with one exception, has shown, has been most encouraging.

Respectfully submitted,

MABEL PARK,

Supervisor of Music.
